Letter from the Founders

Somewhere along the way, we found ourselves sitting with an uncomfortable thought. Good intent is everywhere. Meaningful impact is not.

Over the last decade, we've had a front-row seat to generosity in all its forms. People showing up after long workdays, students taking their first steps into giving back, organisations opening their doors with hope. And yet, we also saw something else. Effort that didn't always land where it was needed most. Energy that didn't always translate into lasting change. That stayed with us. It pushed us to ask harder questions.

ConnectFor began as a platform to make volunteering easier. But over time, we realised ease is only the starting point. What really matters is effectiveness. Today, we are evolving into a complete social impact ecosystem, expanding tailored services across corporate, nonprofit, and individual stakeholders. Driving this growth are our Flagship IPs - School Adoption Program, Solar Shala, Health Camps & Screening and Learning & Exposure Programs. These purpose-built initiatives allow us to move beyond isolated engagements into structured, scalable models. Through these IPs and bespoke stakeholder services, nonprofits receive strategic capability, companies engage with true purpose, and individuals build deep, ongoing connections with the causes they support.

This shift has quietly shaped everything we've done this year and while what we're building is evolving, what we believe hasn't changed. That people care. That they want to do good. And that with the right direction, that intent can go a long way.

Ten years in, this feels less like a milestone and more like a moment of clarity. We understand our role better now. And we're building for what truly makes a difference. Thank you for being part of this journey with your time, your trust, and your belief in what's possible. Here's to doing good, with intention.

VISION

To be India's leading catalyst for social impact, where individuals, organizations, and communities collaborate to create sustainable and equitable change.

MISSION

To bridge gaps between NGOs, corporates, institutions, and individuals by offering comprehensive solutions in volunteering, partnerships, and CSR, while ensuring tangible benefits for communities.

VALUES

The beliefs and guiding principles that we have built our organisation by are: Innovation, Teamwork, Accountability, Leadership and Integrity. This has helped us grow and work towards our mission

From Volunteering to a Social Impact Ecosystem

Over the last decade, ConnectFor has evolved beyond volunteer matching into an ecosystem that brings together NGOs, corporates, institutions, governments and individuals to create an ecosystem that builds long-term social impact through partnerships, implementation and flagship initiatives.

ConnectFor is a social impact catalyst that connects, enables, & executes turning intent into measurable change.

Catalysts of Change: Volunteers of ConnectFor

At ConnectFor, volunteers are not just participants, they are catalysts of change. In FY 2025–26, we deepened our service pathways for volunteers, offering structured, curated, and personalised routes to contribute, grow, and lead.

Through a combination of service programmes, dynamic events, and celebratory initiatives, we empowered volunteers to not only give back, but also grow personally and professionally.

Skill Based Volunteering

Planting Expertise: Pro Bono Consulting

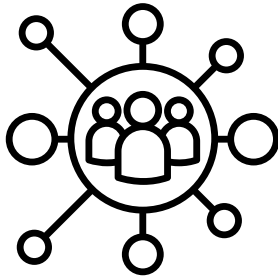

We recognise that nonprofits often require more than volunteer support; they need strategic expertise to strengthen their long-term impact. To address this, we actively facilitate structured pro bono consultancy engagements.

Over the past year, we have collaborated with multiple consulting groups, including student-led initiatives such as the 180 Degree Consultancy Group as well as other consultancy cells, to deliver high-quality, impact-driven solutions to our partner NGOs.

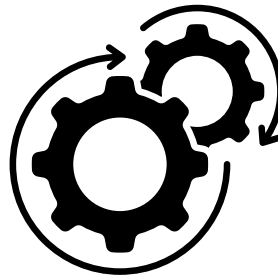

These engagements have helped NGOs access expertise in areas such as:

STRATEGY

OUTREACH

while also creating a valuable learning ecosystem for students and young professionals to apply their knowledge in real-world social impact settings.

Through this initiative, ConnectFor continues to strengthen its role as a bridge between intent and impact enabling NGOs to grow sustainably while empowering the next generation of changemakers.

Roots of the team: Event Support Community

Event Support Volunteers play a vital role in bringing ConnectFor's initiatives to life by leading and executing events on behalf of the team. This is ideal for anyone looking to gain experience in managing community service activities. Beyond volunteering, the role helps build skills such as leadership, communication, time management, and real-time problem-solving.

It also offers a unique behind-the-scenes perspective of how events are planned and delivered, something not all volunteers typically experience. These volunteers not only enhance their personal growth but also contribute significantly to the success and scale of ConnectFor's programs.

Beyond Borders: International Volunteers

Our impact extends beyond India by enabling global participation through remote volunteering opportunities. Over the past year, we engaged volunteers from countries such as Australia, Malaysia, United Arab Emirates, Nigeria, Pakistan, and South Korea, who have contributed to a variety of roles.

These cross-border collaborations have enabled NGOs to access diverse skills and global perspectives, while allowing international volunteers to meaningfully contribute to India's social impact ecosystem and build a borderless volunteering community.

Rare Seeds: Unique Skill Volunteering

We deeply value individuals who bring unique skills, expertise, and passion that go beyond conventional volunteering and make a deeper, more lasting impact through their specialized knowledge for our NGO partners and beneficiaries.

From volunteers who have built physics experiment kits from scratch to make learning more hands-on and accessible, to jewellery designers who have trained women beneficiaries in practical skills to help them build sustainable livelihoods - these contributions go far beyond one-time engagement.

Similarly, professionally trained Zumba and yoga instructors have conducted structured sessions for children from BMC schools, promoting both physical and mental well-being.

We have also seen the support of experienced professionals such as doctors, chartered accountants, and legal advisors who step in to guide NGOs through critical challenges - be it health awareness, financial structuring, or legal compliance.

Growing Green: World Environment Day

The World Environment Day Campaign 2025–26 was initiated to promote sustainable practices and reduce plastic usage by encouraging eco-friendly alternatives within communities.

The Root System: NGOs at ConnectFor's Core

Our NGO partners remain central to ConnectFor's mission, enabling meaningful community impact. In FY 2025-26, these collaborations deepened as we co-created and delivered diverse, volunteer-driven interventions. Beyond facilitating engagements, our partners helped expand both the scale and quality of our work, shifting from transactional volunteering to sustained, need-based collaborations aligned with on-ground realities.

Amplifying Impact: Beyond Volunteering

Branching Out: Inter-NGO Collaboration

We believe strong partnerships are key to building a resilient and scalable social sector. Our focus remains on identifying NGO needs and enabling strategic collaborations that drive sustainable, long-term impact.

During the year, we facilitated connections with multiple NGOs across India, enabling both short-term interventions and long-term program collaborations. These partnerships led to initiatives such as health camps, educational support, menstrual health awareness, and capacity-building workshops, along with community engagement activities.

By fostering inter-NGO collaboration, we strengthened program delivery, expanded outreach, and enhanced resource sharing, contributing to a more connected and impact-driven ecosystem.

Sunlight for Growth: Knowledge as a Catalyst

Limited access to knowledge, networks, and resources continues to restrict growth in the development sector. What began as webinars during COVID-19 has evolved into a strong platform for learning and collaboration.

Over the past year, we expanded this effort by connecting NGOs with domain experts for need-based consulting, enabling donor grantee partnerships for sustained funding, and building a curated resource network in collaboration with India Partner Network, Atma, CSRBOX, DaanVeda and many more.

As a digital volunteering platform, we have developed structured volunteer frameworks that strategically align with NGO needs, enabling efficient engagement, optimised resource utilisation, and greater social impact in the sector. These initiatives are strengthening a more resilient, connected ecosystem, better equipped to scale impact sustainably.

In Full Bloom: Direct Beneficiary Programmes

In FY 2025-26, we strengthened grassroots impact by co-creating need-based solutions with NGOs through strategic collaborations.

We partnered with organisations, institutions, and individuals to address key gaps, starting with experiential learning initiatives like museum visits for children and youth, and expanding into essential services such as health screenings for underserved communities. We also enabled engaging recreational experiences to support holistic well-being.

These efforts reflect our commitment to driving high-impact interventions and strengthening the nonprofit ecosystem through meaningful partnerships.

Powered by Partnership: Corporates at ConnectFor

ConnectFor witnessed a 300% increase in value generation for NGO partners through our CSR and volunteering initiatives.

The year was a combination of physical volunteering sessions which were day-long or one-day, one-time, virtual volunteering and high impact CSR projects which helped our NGO Partners in great capacities. Explore the range of projects and service offerings which made this year impactful.

Event Based Group Volunteering

Through a combination of on site (at office) and off site (outdoor) events, ConnectFor engaged groups of volunteers in community engagement related activities to assist NGO partners through volunteering efforts. Find below examples of our key projects:

Onsite volunteering

A) Infosys Petit Day - The PETIT Day event in Bengaluru brought together sustainability, creativity, and community participation at an extraordinary scale.

3,500
children

Hosted at the Infosys campus, engaged approx 3,500 children from over 5,000 visiting families on seed ball making and sapling distribution.

7000+
seedballs

Each child created two seed balls and received a sapling, encouraging hands-on learning around sustainability and ecological responsibility.

The event stood out as a vibrant example of collaborative volunteering and large-scale community engagement, made possible through the dedicated efforts of the core team, volunteers, and partner stakeholders.

B) Shoe Painting to Support Children - We partnered with corporates like Amazon, K Raheja and Adyen India to infuse joy, ignite confidence, and add a splash of vibrant colour into the lives of 800+ children.

How? by hand-painting canvas shoes with creative designs and heartfelt, encouraging messages, transforming simple footwear into symbols of hope, love, and self-worth.

This event not only impacted the lives of these children financially but instilled in them the confidence to attend school regularly in proper school attire.

Offsite Projects

The Learning Leap Initiative in partnership with amazon which emphasized monthly interactions with the same set of students to contribute towards developing their scholastic and co-scholastic traits. The project built an engaging space at the NGO centre impacting 900+ students from marginalized communities through sessions which focussed on:

Introduction to basics of STEM to inculcate scientific concepts through simple scientific models

Building creative capabilities through guided art competitions.

Overall improvement and enhancement of spoken, written, reading and listening English.

Raising awareness around health through interactive sessions on balanced diet and using non-gas cooking methods.

Improving numerical accuracy by building mathematical foundations of the group of students.

Due to the volunteering efforts of the corporate employees, the students from our partner NGOs like Stand Up India Foundation, Mandal Parishad Upper Primary School, Life Centre Academy, Tare Zameen Foundation, Perumbakkam Govt High School, Bookwallah Organization, etc received exposure across Math, Science, English, Art & Life Skill subjects which helped our NGO partners save more than ₹13,00,000.

CSR Solutions for NGO Needs

A) School Adoption Program

The School Adoption Program, initially implemented in the partnership of Rosy Blue Foundation, was introduced as a long-term commitment to transforming public schools into safe, engaging, and future-ready learning spaces.

What began as an initiative to address the core needs of schools has continued to evolve. This year, the program expanded its reach to 31 public schools across Mumbai and 10 Zilla Parishad schools in Vasai-Virar, impacting 28,880 students through improvements in classrooms with improved infrastructure, digital tools like projectors were introduced, and essential facilities were enhanced. Alongside this, health and hygiene initiatives, including dental check-ups and awareness sessions, ensured that students were not only learning better but also staying healthier.

The change was not just physical, it was visible in student confidence, classroom energy, and teacher effectiveness.

Over the past year, ConnectFor, in partnership with adyen Adyen India Technology Services Pvt. Ltd., successfully implemented a series of impactful CSR and employee volunteering initiatives across Mumbai focused on education, sustainability, accessibility, community welfare, and animal care. The initiatives positively impacted children, senior citizens, Persons with disabilities, underserved communities, and shelter homes through thoughtfully designed engagement programs.

A) Back to School Program: Education & School Initiatives -

- 2,056 stationery kits distributed
- 1,028 notebooks donated
- Uniforms, shoes, and socks provided to students
- Creative activities such as Artsplash and Budgeting & Poster Making encouraged children to explore creativity, sustainability, and basic financial literacy through interactive learning experiences.

B) Books for All – Library Creation Drive:

The partnership enabled:

- Creation and support of library spaces across 10 Zilla parishad schools
- Donation of 1,297 books
- Library cupboards, tables, and chairs for school learning spaces.

C) Technology Donation - To bridge the digital divide:

- Computers, tables, and chairs whole setup were donated to schools.
- Basic digital learning infrastructure was supported in rural schools.

B) Solar Shala - Powering Education, Sustainably

One question stayed with us: Why should meaningful learning experiences be limited to only a few schools?

That question led us to rural Maharashtra, where we found schools struggling with frequent 3-4 hour power cuts during school hours. In many remote and tribal regions, unreliable electricity disrupted lessons, limited the use of technology, and affected the overall learning environment.

This wasn't just an energy challenge, it was an education challenge. That realization gave birth to Solar Shala - an initiative that creates uninterrupted, sustainable learning environments through clean energy solutions. The vision was simple yet powerful:

Reduce dependency on unreliable electricity

Enable schools to become more energy self-sufficient

Support children with brighter, technology-enabled classrooms

Promote environmentally conscious infrastructure in education

Access to safe drinking water is fundamental to a child's health, well-being, and ability to learn. Yet, many government schools across Mumbai and Palghar continue to face challenges related to unsafe drinking water, poor hygiene conditions, and limited access to clean water infrastructure.

To address this critical need, Alvita (Alvita Pharma Pvt. Ltd.,) in partnership with ConnectFor, implemented the Jal hi Jeevan Project. The initiative focused on installing water purification systems in BMC and Zilla Parishad schools to improve health, hygiene, and the overall school environment for children.

D) Meaningful Community Impacts

We believe that meaningful CSR goes beyond one-time interventions as it creates lasting change for communities while fostering a culture of purpose among employees.

A) Wheels of Hope – Wheelchair Assembly & Donation: Through a hands-on employee volunteering initiative:

- 45 wheelchairs were assembled and donated
- Beneficiaries included organizations such as Dignity Foundation and ADAPT

B) CycleDaan – Pedals of Joy - To improve accessibility for children

- In partnership with Adyen and Bidgely, a total of 303 bicycles were donated to children from underserved communities across Dahanu, Panvel, and Bengaluru.
- The initiative helped children who travel long distances to school, improving attendance, punctuality, and access to education.

C) Sustainability & Community Welfare - Employee volunteers also participated in:

- Sapling plantation drives
- Community kitchen initiatives serving meals to tribal children
- Animal shelter support activities with food donations and hands-on volunteering

The collaboration between Adyen India, Bidgely and ConnectFor reflects the power of corporate volunteering and CSR in creating meaningful, measurable, and community-driven impact. Together, these initiatives strengthened:
